Fact sheet · As of October 2026

Reclaim Security

Reclaim Security is a Unified Exposure Management Platform that owns the entire remediation life cycle. It runs on top of a company's existing security stack and closes the last mile from finding an exposure to safely fixing it. The Productivity Impact Prediction Engine (PIPE™) predicts the business impact of a change before it runs, and every remediation stays governed, evidenced, and reversible. Founded in 2024, Reclaim has raised $26M, including a $20M Series A led by Acrew Capital. The company operates in the United States and Israel.

Company facts

Founded	2024
Offices	United States and Israel
Category	Unified Exposure Management Platform
Funding	$26M in total, including a $20M Series A
Investors	Acrew Capital (Series A lead), QP Ventures, Ibex Investors
Recognition	Winner, 2026 Cybersecurity Stars Awards
Website	reclaim.security

Leadership

Barak Klinghofer, Co-Founder and CEO

Previously co-founded Hexadite, an early security automation company that Microsoft acquired in 2017.

Roy Peretz, Co-Founder and Chief Product Officer

Previously founded WhiteBox Security, an identity security governance company that SailPoint acquired.

Press contact
Dan Shalev, Director of Marketing dan.shalev@reclaim.security

Media kit
Logos, photos and brand guidelines reclaim.security/press